

ANTHROPOLOGISTS FUND FOR
URGENT ANTHROPOLOGICAL RESEARCH

ANNUAL REPORT 2007

G. N. Appell, Ph.D.
Founding Sponsor
P. O. Box A
Phillips, ME 04966

Board of Sponsors

Inside Covers

Entirely Supported by Individual Contributions.

No funds are used for administrative or fund-raising expenses.

ANTHROPOLOGISTS FUND FOR
URGENT ANTHROPOLOGICAL RESEARCH

ANNUAL REPORT 2007

Ethnography is the Glory of Anthropology

Professor T. N. Madan

I have no hesitation in characterising the corpus of descriptive ethnography which we have produced as by far the greatest achievement in anthropology, the crowning glory of our discipline.

Professor George Peter Murdock

Contents

Introduction	2
The Fund	3
Objectives of Fellowships in Urgent Anthropology	3
Agreement with the Royal Anthropological Institute	4
Application for Fellowships	4
Financial Status of Fund	5
Fund Raising Goals	5
RAI Fellowships in Urgent Anthropology Awarded	6
Contributors to the Fund	10
Bibliography of Publications Resulting from AFUAR- RAI Fellowships in Urgent Anthropology	11
Board of Sponsors	Inside Covers

ANTHROPOLOGISTS FUND FOR
URGENT ANTHROPOLOGICAL RESEARCH

ANNUAL REPORT 2007

INTRODUCTION

Since inception the AFUAR has funded thirteen Royal Anthropological Institute Fellowships in Urgent Anthropology, a special grant to digitalize the data, photographs, films, and objects of Himalayan cultures, and a special grant to digitalize the old records of Nanay folklore.

The Fellows have been drawn from various nations and have done research in many regions:

Year	Fellow	Research
1995	Dr. Roxanne P. Hakim	Vasavas of Gujarat, India
1996	Dr. Stuart Kirsch	Yonggom of Papua New Guinea
1997	Dr. Cai Hua	Na of Yunnan Province, P.R.C.
1998	Dr. Barthlomew Dean	Urarina of Peru
1999	Dr. Veronica Strang	Kowanyama, No. Queensland, Australia
2000	Dr. Christopher Duncan	Forest Tobelo Halmahera, Sulawesi, Indonesia
2001	Professor Alan MacFarlane and Dr. Mark Turin	Himalayan region
2001	Dr. Noriko Sato	Orthodox Christians in Jazaira and Aleppo, Syria
2002	Dr. Ananda Rajah	Karen Refuges, Thailand/Burma
2003	Dr. Rogaia Abusharaf	Southern Sudan
2004	Dr. Tatiana Bulgakova	Nanay, Manchuria, Russia
2004	Dr. Emma Gilberthorpe	Fasu and Min people of Papua New Guinea
2005	Dr. Mark Jamieson	Sumu people of Nicaraguas Mosquito Coast
2006	Dr. M. Thanuja	Konda Reddis
2007	Dr. Dario Novellino	Forest conservation on Palawan Island

THE FUND

The Anthropologists Fund for Urgent Anthropological Research was launched in late 1993 to support basic ethnographic research on threatened or disappearing cultures and languages of indigenous peoples. The Fund is entirely supported by individual contributions. It is expected that the research funded will make a fundamental contribution to anthropological knowledge and will also serve, where appropriate, as an aid to indigenous peoples in their struggle to control their own destinies.

OBJECTIVES OF THE FELLOWSHIPS IN URGENT ANTHROPOLOGY

The primary goal of the Fellowships is to make a contribution to anthropological knowledge. However, basic ethnographic research has proven to be of material aid and help to indigenous peoples whose cultures and languages are threatened or disappearing. Thus, grantees are encouraged, where appropriate, to:

- a) report to the people concerned relevant records made in the course of the study of their culture and history, so as to help them make use of valued aspects of these in the construction of their futures;
- b) foster respect, where this has been eroded, for their culture and language and their preservation, including the development of local interest in collecting oral histories and traditions, and the incorporation of these in the educational system;
- c) collect data on the traditional patterns of land use and rights, and make them available for the people;
- d) facilitate the study of local medical practices and their incorporation into the modern health delivery systems;
- e) report violations of human rights to pertinent human rights organizations.

It is expected and required that scientific publication will result from the research.

The idea for such a fund arose at the 1993 annual meeting of the American Anthropological Association in Washington, D.C., as the result of discussion between G. N. Appell and Jonathan C. M. Benthall, then Director of the Royal Anthropological Institute of Great Britain and Ireland. There was a need to find support for research on disappearing and threatened cultures, not only for the benefit of anthropological knowledge, but also for the benefit of the peoples themselves. And so the AFUAR was created. Jonathan Benthall, in his usual innovative style, devised a plan for RAI Fellowships in Urgent Anthropology whereby the Fund and universities in the U.K. could cooperate to undertake this research. This scheme owes much to the vision of Mr. Benthall!

The program was that the Fellowships in Urgent Anthropology would be under the direction of a U.K. university for a period of five years, including cost-sharing of 1/3 of the budget. Then the program would be open for bidding by other universities.

In 2000 Jonathan Benthall resigned as Director of the Royal Anthropological Institute. Hilary Callan, selected as the new director, competently took over the oversight of this scheme and ably advanced its goals.

AGREEMENT WITH THE ROYAL ANTHROPOLOGICAL INSTITUTE

The Fund awards grants to the Royal Anthropological Institute of Great Britain and Ireland to support their Fellowships in Urgent Anthropology.

An inaugural five-year program (extended for a sixth year) of Fellowships was set up by the RAI in association with Goldsmiths College, part of the University of London, which is the largest center for anthropological research in the United Kingdom. The heads of Goldsmiths anthropology department agreed to maintain their interest and involvement in the program and give advice where appropriate.

In 2001 the RAI entered into an agreement with the University of Durham to continue this program of Fellowships and they hosted the program until 2006. It is testimony to the importance the University set on the program that in financially very straitened times they had found the funds to cover their contribution over this period.

The new host for the Urgent anthropology program, for the next 3 years, 2007-2010, will be the University of Kent at Canterbury.

Applicants are invited to submit budgeted projects costing up to 23,500, to last approximately eighteen months, with a minimum of one year and maximum of two years, this period to include field research and writing up of results. The successful candidate will be expected to contribute actively to the research activities of the Department and to reside, for the main part, in Canterbury when writing up. He/she will also be expected to publish the results of the research. The closing date for receiving applications is 1 March of each year.

The selection of RAI Fellows is made by a panel from the University of Kent at Canterbury. Academic oversight of the projects is provided by the senior members of the anthropology department. There is an RAI oversight committee on the Urgent Fellowships.

Fellowships are awarded without discrimination of ethnic or national origin, or residence, etc.

APPLICATIONS FOR FELLOWSHIP

Application information on Fellowships in Urgent Anthropology may be requested from:

Mrs. Susan Simpson
Academic Administrator
Department of Anthropology
Marlowe Building
University of Kent
Canterbury, Kent

Phone +44 (0) 1227 824 742
Fax +44 (0) 1227 827 289

CT2 7NR
United Kingdom

Applicants must either already have a doctoral qualification or equivalent in anthropology, or be nearing completion of doctoral research.

FINANCIAL STATUS OF THE FUND - 1993 through 2006

The Funds investments are divided and managed by the following institutions: The Boston Foundation and Fidelity Investments Charitable Gift Fund, also of Boston.

The cumulative financial activities of the Fund as of December 31, 2006, are:

Total Contributions Received since inception:	$673,825.46
The finances of the Fund have appreciated over this period:	$340,475.54
TOTAL	$1,014,300.94
Total Grants made to the RAI since inception:	$389,230.00
Net current funds invested and held for future grants:	$625,071.00

FUND RAISING GOALS

The Fund is currently seeking additional donations and legacies in order to achieve its goal of a permanent endowment of $1,000,000 to $2,000,000, the income from which will support at least two to three fellowships per year.

We would welcome any advice on further sources of contributions to this Fund.

To make contributions to the Fund checks should be made payable to: The Anthropologists Fund for Urgent Anthropological Research and sent to Dr. George N. Appell, P. O. Box A, Phillips, ME 04966, U.S.A., or to the Royal Anthropological Institute, 50 Fitzroy Street, London W1P 5HS, UNITED KINGDOM.

All contributions are tax exempt and will be deposited in the Funds account in the Fidelity Investments Charitable Gift Fund, of Boston, MA, or in the account at the Boston Foundation (a community foundation). Other contributions from within the United Kingdom are held by the Royal Anthropological Institute and are also entirely tax exempt.

Dr. Appell, Founding Sponsor, will be pleased to discuss donations and legacies for the Fund with prospective donors.

Also, please advise us if any contributor wishes to remain anonymous.

We are very pleased that this Fund is progressing so well and that all contributions go to funding research. No funds are used for fund raising or administrative expenses.

RAI FELLOWSHIPS IN URGENT ANTHROPOLOGY AWARDED

The first Royal Anthropological Institute Fellowship in Urgent Anthropology was awarded in December 1994 to Dr. Roxanne P. Hakim, of Bombay, India, and Kings College, Cambridge. This was to continue her research on the Vasavas, of Gujarat, India. The Vasavas form a community of subsistence farmers who supplement their agriculture by forest hunting and gathering and also raising some cattle. Their language has not been recorded. Recently the community has been resettled because of the Sardar Sarovar Dam project. Dr. Hakim has been working on completing a dictionary of the Vasavas language and pursuing her collection of Vasavas myths, stories, and songs. In addition, she planned to spend time with two less isolated groups, the Tadvīs and Rathwas, who are also being resettled as part of the same project.

Amount of Grant: $27,000

The second annual fellowship was awarded in December 1995 to Dr. Stuart Kirsch, of the University of Michigan, who has conducted extensive research in Papua New Guinea since 1987. Dr. Kirsch has been studying the resistance of the Yonggom of Papua New Guinea to an open-cut copper and gold mine which is polluting their river system. The project was intended to contribute to anthropological knowledge about an indigenous peoples effort to maintain autonomy within the global system by defending their natural environment.

Amount of Grant: $22,500

The third RAI Fellowship in Urgent Anthropology (June 1997 to December 1998) was awarded to Dr. Cai Hua for fieldwork to document the shamanic knowledge among the few remaining shaman of the Na, an ethnic minority group in the Yunnan Province, PRC, rapidly facing assimilation. The Fund and the RAI have also provided a video camera for Dr. Cai to use to videotape shaman performances. This research was an extension of the original research that Dr. Cai did for his Ph.D. (1995) from the Université de Paris X-Nanterre on the kinship system of the Na. Dr. Cai's dissertation was published as Les Na de Chine: Une Société, Sans Père Ni Mari, Presses Universitaires de France, in which he reports the absence of the institution of marriage and family.

Amount of Grant: $25,930

The Fund also provided funds to support the completion of a video of a Na shamanistic performance by Dr. Cai, with the help of Dr. Paul Henley, Chair of the RAI Film Committee. This video is now available from the Royal Anthropological Institute and includes a fifty page Study Guide.

Amount of Grant for Film: $8,820

The 1998 RAI Fellowship was awarded to Dr. Barthlomew Dean (University of Kansas) to continue research in Peru on Urarina social organization, cosmology, and shamanism. He also was to work with Urarina leaders and local organizations to develop an intercultural school curriculum that would revalorize the Urarina language and contribute to cultural survival, including the preservation of Urarina knowledge. This work was also to contribute to the protection of Urarina land tenure and their natural resource management.

Amount of Grant: $27,055

The fifth RAI Fellowship was awarded in 1999 to Veronica Strang (D. Phil. in Museum Ethnography from Oxford), lecturer and deputy head of a new department of anthropology at the University of Wales, Lampeter. Her project was to study the maintenance of aboriginality in far north Queensland, where she has had extensive field experience since 1982. She examined the efforts of an ex-mission community, Kowanyama, to preserve a traditional Aboriginal environmental relationship while grappling with issues of land rights, tourism, mining, etc. The younger generation is very keen to acquire their elders traditional knowledge. She used the technique of cultural mapping and the recording of language and other data, with special reference to the internal debates and tensions within the community. She stated that there was a close coincidence between the aims of the project and the current urgent needs of the community.

Amount of Grant: $24,600

The 2000 RAI Fellowship was awarded to Dr. Christopher Duncan (Research Associate in the Asian Cultural History Program, Smithsonian Institution). The original proposal submitted for the RAI Research Fellowship in Urgent Anthropology was for funds to document the indigenous cosmology and ritual practices of the Forest Tobelo, the forest-dwelling foragers living on the island of Halmahera in eastern Indonesia. However, due to the outbreak of violence in 1999, and continuing instability throughout 2001-2003, research plans had to be changed. A new research proposal was submitted in 2002 titled Communal Violence in North Maluku: An Examination of the Violence and the Resulting IDP Situation in Northern Sulawesi and North Maluku, Indonesia. This new research project had two main foci: (1) documenting and better understanding the violence that broke out in North Maluku from 1999 to 2000, and (2) examining the lives of those people that it displaced. The research was undertaken in the provinces of North Sulawesi and North Maluku in eastern Indonesia. The former was home to approximately 35,000 largely Christian internally displaced people (IDPs). Approximately 10,000 of these IDPs were living in several large IDP camps in the cities of Bitung and Manado, and an additional 25,000 were scattered throughout the province in individual homes. Research was conducted among both groups. The second research site was the province of North Maluku where the conflict that produced these IDPs occurred. Field work was concentrated in the districts of Tobelo and Kao.

Amount of Grant: $22,860.50

Professor Alan MacFarlane and Dr. Mark Turin (Cambridge University) were awarded a special RAI Fellowship for 2001-2003. Digital Himalaya, a pilot project to develop digital collection, archiving and distribution strategies for multimedia anthropological information from the Himalayan region. They digitized a set of existing ethnographic archives comprised of photographs, films, sound recordings, field notes and texts collected by anthropologists and travelers in Tibet, Nepal, Bhutan and the Indian Himalayas (including Sikkim) from the beginning of the twentieth century to present.

The project had three long-term objectives:

1. To preserve in a digital medium valuable ethnographic materials that are degenerating in their current forms;
2. To make these resources available in a searchable digital format to scholars and to the Himalayan communities from which the material originated;
3. To develop a template for collaborative digital cataloging that will allow users to contribute documentation to existing collections and eventually to link their own collections to the system, creating a dynamic tool for comparison.

If successful, the project should provide a model for others which may even lead to a larger project in the future to establish a set of interconnected archives of anthropological materials.

Amount of Grant: $45,139.50

The 2001-2002 RAI Fellowship, under the direction of the University of Durham, was awarded to Dr. Noriko Sato to study a group of Syrian Orthodox Christians who were originally expelled from Turkey in 1922, the year of the Great Massacre, also called the Year of the Sword. Dr. Sato spent a large amount of time for field work among Syrian Orthodox Christians in Syria and collecting data in 2002 and is planning to publish the results as a book. The political and economic situation in Syria came to be problematic due to the long-standing Israeli military operations over Palestine and the recent war against Iraq. This has affected her research project of promoting tourism in Syria, as the number of tourists has drastically decreased during these three years. Furthermore, due to the downsized local economy, private sectors, including tourism, have lost the prospect of new investment and scaled back their business. In such a situation, she was unable to launch a pilot scheme of historical tourism that obliged for Syrian Orthodox Christians to invest their capital and therefore had to seek an alternative way of pursuing the aim of what the project of the historical tourism attempted to achieve. The adult educational project, in which Dr. Sato organized study groups to visit historical sites of Byzantine churches and read texts related to their history, is the way that supports the Christians to understand their historical affiliation to Syria and, through this process, they might confirm their modern Syrian identity. The outcome of this group activity was similar to that of historical tourism, which was expected. An analysis of the Adult Educational activities suggests that their interest in both ancient Christian history and the religious texts is closely related to their sociopolitical aim of repossessing their past.

Amount of Grant: $23,300

The University of Durham awarded the RAI Urgent Fellow for the years 2002-2003 to Dr. Ananda Rajah, of the University of Singapore, for a project entitled Karen Refugees in the Thailand-Burma Borderlands: Ethnic Conflict, Flight and Cultural Change. Research has primarily involved a survey of the literature, published and unpublished, on the ethnic conflict in Burma leading to Karen refugee flows into Thailand and the collation of grey literature previously collected. Dr. Rajah also made a field visit to a Karen refugee camp along the Thailand-Burma borderlands.

Amount of Grant: $26,000

Dr. Rogiai Abusharaf was awarded the RAI Fellowship for 2004. Her project is entitled The Impact of Arabization and Islamization on Identity and Self-hood among the Southern Sudans Indigenous Peoples. She will take up the Fellowship early in 2004, with two periods at Durham University separated by field work in the Sudan.

Amount of Grant: $28,025.

A special grant was awarded to Dr. Tatiana Bulgakova, Professor of the Institute of Northern Peoples in Alexander I. Herzen State Pedagogical University of Russia. The goal of this project is to digitalize the old records of Nanay folklore, which are under threat of being lost and to do the most urgent work for preparing a textbook Nanay Folklore, which is the first part of the planned textbook Traditional Nanay Culture: (1) Nanay Folklore and (2) Ethnography of the Nanay. This is the way to incorporate traditional knowledge in education, lost in the course of rapid change, and to make this knowledge available to the people, from whom it has been recorded. The collaboration with native teachers and elders in the process of preparing the textbook can foster their eroded respect for their native culture.

Amount of Grant: $14,000.00.

The 2004 RAI Fellowship was awarded to Dr. Emma Gilberthorpe. She was awarded the eleventh Fellowship after open competition. She will be conducting urgent research among the Fasu and Min people of Papua New Guinea, who face the short-term threat of virtual extinction brought on by rapid resource development; particularly the effects of temporary extraction and mining projects. Both groups face the demise of traditional knowledge and are likely to be forced to abandon their historic areas of settlement and move to larger towns. Both have specifically requested anthropological assistance in documenting their indigenous knowledge. The results are being disseminated to the extraction/mining companies to obtain maximum benefits and internally generate sustainable development.

Amount of Grant $31,000.00.

The 2005 RAI Fellowship was awarded to Dr. Mark Jamieson. He is working on language and identity among the Sumu people of Rio Siquia, in the Mosquito Coast region of Eastern Nicaragua. This isolated and probably disappearing population of fewer than 300, speaking an endangered language, has never been studied by professional anthropologists. Threatened during the 1980s with dispersals, kidnappings and human rights abuses during a civil war which was particularly fierce in the area, this community is now threatened with extinction under pressure from advancing Spanish-speaking campesinos and cattle farmers.

Amount of Grant $31,000.00.

The 2006 RAI Fellowship was awarded to Dr. M. Thanuja, for her project entitled The Konda Reddia: Perspectives on their social organisation and shifting cultivation overlooked by developmental intervention.

Amount of Grant $32,000.00.

The 2007 Fellowship was granted to Dr. Dario Novellino for a project on Enabling the indigenous voice: beyond technocratic solutions to forest conservation on Palawan Island (the Phillipines).

Amount of Grant $36,000

CONTRIBUTORS TO THE FUND

Contributors to the Fund have been Nathan & Meredith Altshuler; Dr. George N. Appell; Mrs. Helen F. Appell; Mrs. Laura W. R. Appell; Mr. Louis J. Appell, III; Appleby Foundation; Scott & Annie Appleby Charitable Trust; Jonathan C. M. Benthall; Dr. Robert A. Blust; Dr. Erika Bourguignon; Dr. Ann Pat Caplan; Dr. Michael M. Cernea; Dr. Benjamin Colby; Dr. Robert K. Dentan; Dr. Amity A. Doolittle; Professor Norman Dorsen; Dr. Richard Allen Drake; Dr. Brian Durrans; Dr. Charles Frantz; Dr. Rosemary Gianni; Dr. Peter R. Goethals; Dr. Joan Bamberger Goodheart; Dr. Felicitas D. Goodman; Dr. Stephen Gudeman; Dr. Robert K. Hitchcock; Mr. & Mrs. Steven G. Hoch; Dr. W. W. Howells; Dr. A. Thomas Kirsch; Dr. Robert Manners; Dr. & Mrs. J. Wallace McMeel; Mrs. Charity R. McNabb; Dr. Eugene Ogan; Dr. Kazunori Oshima; Dr. James L. Peacock III; Dr. Anton Ploeg; Dr. Daniella S. Sieff; Sutasoma Trust; Mrs. Laura P. Appell Warren; Mr. Ethan R. A. Warren; Miss Amanda P. A. Warren.

BIBLIOGRAPHY RESULTING FROM AFUAR-RAI FELLOWSHIPS

IN URGENT ANTHROPOLOGY*

**Information is provided by the Fellows.*

Duncan, Christopher R.

- 2001 Savage Imagery: (Mis)representations of the Forest Tobelo of Indonesia. The Asia Pacific Journal of Anthropology 2:45-62.
- 2001 Anthropological Research on Internally Displaced Persons and Ethnic Conflict in North Maluku. (In Indonesian.) Paper presented at the National Islamic Theological Seminary, Manado, Sulawesi Utara, Indonesia.
- 2001 Anthropological Approaches to Reconciliation in North Maluku. (In Indonesian.) Paper presented at the GMIH Theological Seminary, Tobelo, Maluku Utara, Indonesia.
- 2002 Forest-Dwelling Communities and Regional Development in Halmahera. (In Indonesian.) Paper presented at the Seminar on the Role of Local Culture in Conserving Natural Resources in the Age of Regional Autonomy, The Sanro Foundation, Tobelo, Maluku Utara, Indonesia.
- 2002 Forest-Dwelling Communities and Modernization. (In Indonesian.) Paper presented at the Dodia Foundation, Manado, Sulawesi Utara, Indonesia.
- 2002 Resettlement and Natural Resources in Indonesia: A Case Study. Conservation and Mobile Indigenous People: Displacement, Forced Settlement and Sustainable Development. Dawn Chatty and Marcus Colchester, ed. Studies in Forced Migration Vol. 10. Bergahahn Books.
- 2002 The Aftermath of a Civil War: Fighting Has Stopped in North Maluku, but Mistrust Lingers. Inside Indonesia. Jan-April:27-28.
- 2002 Unwelcome Guests: Relations between Local and IDPs in North Sulawesi. Paper presented at the Third International Symposium of the Journal Anthropologi Indonesia: Rebuilding Indonesia, A Nation of 'Unity and Diversity': Towards a Multicultural Society, Udayana University, Den Pasar, Indonesia.
- 2003 Confusing Deadlines: IDPs in Indonesia. Forced Migration Review 17:35-36.
- 2003 Apa yang Terjadi Setelah Berhentinya Perang? Masa Depan Pengungsi Maluku Utara di Sulawesi Utara. Conflict Management and Democratic Dialog in Indonesia Website. Southeast Asian Studies Program, Ohio University.
- 2003 Untangling Conversation: Religious Change and Identity among the Forest Tobelo of Indonesia. Ethnology 42:307-22.
- 2003 The Politics of Going Home: The Future of North Moluccan Internally Displaced Persons. Paper presented at "Violence Eastern Indonesia: Causes and Consequences," University of Hawai'i, May 16-18, 2003.
- 2003 Unwelcome Guests: Tension, Strife and Ethnic Conflict between Locals and Internally Displaced Persons (IDPs) in North Sulawesi, Indonesia. Paper presented at the Association of Asian Studies Annual Meeting, New York.

- 2003 Does the Truth Matter?: Writing Ethnography about Communal Violence and Suffering. Paper presented at the Anthropology Seminar of the Department of Anthropology, Goldsmiths College, University of London.
- 2004 Tamu Tak Diundang: Pengungsi dan Orang Lokal di Sulawesi Utara. Antropologi Indonesia.
- 2004 From Development to Empowerment: Changing Indonesian Government Policies towards Indigenous Minorities. In Civilizing the Margins: Southeast Asian Government Policies for the Development of Minorities. Chris Duncan, ed. Cornell University Press.
- 2005 Unwelcome Guests: Relations Between Internally Displaced Persons and Their Hosts in North Sulawesi. Journal of Refugee Studies.
- 2005 Who Benefits? For the Forest Tobelo People, Regional Autonomy is a Mixed Blessing. Inside Indonesia.
- 2005 The Politics of Going Home: The Future of Internally Displaced Persons in North Maluku. Cakalele: Maluku Research Journal.
- 2005 The Other Maluku: Chronologies of Conflict in North Maluku, Eastern Indonesia. Indonesia.

Abstract: The conflict in Ambon and Maluku has received a large amount of media and academic attention. In contrast, the violence in North Maluku (August 1999--June 2000) has received less coverage and then only at its most violent points. It has largely been ignored by the academic community. This seeming lack of interest despite the fact that the killing of Muslims in Tobelo has often been cited as the "spark" that led to the call for a jihad in the region and the subsequent arrival of the Laskar Jihad. This paper, based on eighteen months of fieldwork in Muslim and Christian communities in North Maluku and among North Moluccan IDPs in North Sulawesi, looks at the course of the violence as seen through local accounts. It reviews chronologies of the conflict and incorporates, often contradictory, accounts from all sides. More importantly, it examines how these events, and associated rumors, were interpreted and utilized on the ground by local leaders and local communities to influence the course of the violence.

- 2006 Indonesia. The Indigenous World 2006. International Work group for Indigenous Affairs.
- 2007 The Devil is in the Details: Representations of Conflict in North Maluku, Eastern Indonesia.
- 2007 Mixed Outcomes: The Impact of Regional Autonomy and Decentralization on Indigenous Ethnic Minorities in Indonesia. Development and Change.

Gilberthorpe, Emma L.

2007 Fasu Solidarity: A Case Study of Kin Networks, Land Tenure, and Oil Extraction in Kutubu, Papua New Guinea. American Anthropologist Vol. 109 (1):101-112.

Hakim, Roxanne P.

1996 Vasava Identity in Transition: Some Theoretical Issues. Special Issue on Resettlement, July 15. Economic and Political Weekly of India 31:1492-99. Mumbai: Sameeksha Trust.

1996 Post-graduate Workshop on "Anthropology and Advocacy," Goldsmiths College, University of London.

1997 Mistrusting Refugees: A Book Review. Critique of Anthropology Journal.

1997 Identity, Resettlement and Perceptions of Change: The Vasava Bhils of Gujarat. Submitted to Development and Change. The Hague.

1997 Resettlement and Perceptions of Change: The Vasava Bhils of Gujarat. Oxford Development Studies. Forthcoming. (Paper presented at a seminar series on Personhood and the Experience of Change, Goldsmiths College, University of London, and at the Seminar in Contemporary South Asia, University of Oxford, United Kingdom, February and May 1997).

1997 Resettlement and Rehabilitation in the Context of Vasava Culture: Some Reflections. In The Dam and the Nation: Displacement and Resettlement in the Narmada Valley, J. Dreze, M. Samson, and S. Singh, eds. New Delhi: Oxford University Press. (Paper presented at the Narmada Forum Workshop held at the Centre for Development Economics, University of Delhi, India, December 1993; paper presented at the Anthropology Department Seminar series on Personhood and the Experience of Change, Goldsmiths College, University of London; a revised version was presented in the Seminar in Contemporary South Asia, University of Oxford.)

1998 Corn to Cotton: Changing Indicators of Food Security Amongst Resettled Vasavas. In Reconstructing Livelihoods: Towards New Approaches to Resettlement, M. Cernea and C. McDowell, eds. Oxford: Bergahn Books. Forthcoming. (Paper presented at the 2nd International Conference on Displacement and Resettlement entitled Reconstructing Livelihoods: Towards New Approaches to Resettlement, held at University of Oxford, United Kingdom, September 1996.

Kirsch, Stuart

1996 Acting Globally: Eco-politics in Papua New Guinea. Journal of the International Institute (Newsletter, The University of Michigan) 3, 3:1, 14-25.

1996 Cleaning Up Ok Tedi: Settlement Favors Yonggom People. Journal of the International Institute (Newsletter, University of Michigan) 4, 1:7.

- 1996 Return to Ok Tedi. Meanjin 55, 4:657-66.
- 1996 Anthropologists and Global Alliances (Comment). Anthropology Today 12, 4:14-16.
- 1997 "Kotim ol" (Take Them to Court). Delta: News and Background on Ogoni, Shell and Nigeria (newsletter), No. 3, October:32-35. (Reprinted in Cultural Survival online: <http://www.cs.org>).
- 1997 Is OK Tedi a Precedent? Implications of a Lawsuit. In The Ok Tedi Settlement: Issues, Outcomes and Implications, Glen Banks and Chris Ballard, eds. Pp. 118-140. Pacific Policy Paper 27. Canberra: National Centre for Development Studies and Resource Management in Asia-Pacific, Australian National University.
- 2000 Anthropology and Advocacy: A Case Study of the Campaign against the OK Tedi Mine. Critique of Anthropology 22:175-200.
- 2000 An Incomplete Victory at OK Tedi. Human Rights Dialogue 2:10-11.
- 2001 Changing Views of Place and Time along the OK Tedi. In Mining and Indigenous Lifeworlds in Australia and Papua New Guinea, Alan Rumsey and James Weiner, eds. Pp. 182-207. Adelaide: Crawford House Press.
- 2002 Litigating OK Tedi (Again). In Melanesia: The Future of Tradition, James F. Weiner, Ed. Cultural Survival 26(3):15-19. Online edition: <http://www/cs.org/>.
- 2003 Mining, Indigenous Peoples and Human Rights: A Case Study of the OK Tedi Mine, Papua New Guinea. Working paper from a workshop on "Indigenous Peoples, Private Sector Natural Resource, Energy and Mining Companies and Human Rights," organized by the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights. Indigenous Perspectives 5:60-91.
- 2003 Mining and Environmental Human Rights in Papua New Guinea. In Transnational Corporations and Human Rights, Corporations and Human Rights, George Jedrzej Frynas and Scott Pegg, eds. Pp. 115-136. London: Palgrave.

Rajah, Ananda

- n.d. A "Nation of Intent" in Burma: Karen Ethno-nationalism, Nationalism and Narrations of Nation. In Political Fragmentation in Southeast Asia: Alternative Nations in the Making, Kevin Hewison and Vivienne Wee, eds. London: RoutledgeCurzon.
- n.d. Burma: A State in Name and Not in Fact--Movements for Ethnic Autonomy, Centres, Peripheries and Resource Control. In Political Fragmentation in Southeast Asia: Alternative Nations in the Making, Kevin Hewison and Vivienne Wee, eds. London: RoutledgeCurzon.
- n.d. Review of Fear and Sanctuary: Burmese Refugees in Thailand, by Hazel J. Lang. Journal of Asian Studies forthcoming.

n.d. Review of Mon Nationalism and Civil War in Burma: The Golden Sheldrake, by Ashley South. Journal of Asian Studies forthcoming.

Sato, Noriko

2002 On the Horns of the Terrorist Dilemma: Syrian Christians' Response to Israeli Terrorism. History and Anthropology 14(2):1-15.

2002 Selective Amnesia: Careful Construction of Orthodox Christian History in Syria. Paper presented at the 101st Annual Meetings of the American Anthropological Association, November 2002.

2003 On the Horns of the Terrorist Dilemmas: Syrian Christians Response to Israeli Terrorism, History and Anthropology Vol. 14(2):141-56.

2003 Communal Education Activities: Reconstruction of Orthodox Christian History in Syria. Presented to BRISMES Annual Conference, organized by British Society for Middle East Studies.

2004 Communal Education Activities: Reconstruction of Orthodox Christian History in Syria. Paper presented at the BRISMES Annual Conference, organized by British Society for Middle East Studies.

2004 Concealing Otherness: Orthodox Christians in Syria and Their Identity. RoutledgeCurzon. Forthcoming.

2004 Indigenous Syrians or Immigrants to Syria? Syrian Orthodox Christians and Their Historical Narratives. Chronos. Forthcoming.

2004 Religious and Political Networks: al-Khoei Foundation and Other Political Minorities. Submitted to Dialogue.

2004 Political Network and Religious Authority: Iraqi Shi leaders and the role of the al-Khoei Foundation. AJEMES Special issue for papers presented in International Workshop: Changing Knowledge and Authority in Islam.

2004 Oriental Dance: Fantasy, Performance, and Identity. Submitted to the Journal of the Royal Anthropological Institute.

2004 Concealing Otherness: The Ambivalent Position of Syrian Orthodox Christians. Presented to the BRISMES Annual Conference organized by British Society for Middle East Studies.

2004 Religious and Political Networks: al-Khoei Foundation and Other Political Minorities. Presented to the JAMES International Workshop: Changing Knowledge and Authority in Islam, Japanese Association for Middle Eastern Studies.

n.d. Concealing Otherness: Orthodox Christians in Syria and Their Identity.

Shneiderman, Sara, with Mark Turin and the Digital Himalaya Project Team

2001 Haimendorf's laptop: An ethnographic archive in the digital age. IIAS Newsletter 26:20.

2001 Digital Himalaya: An Ethnographic Archive in the Digital Age. European Bulletin of Himalayan Research Vol. 20-21. In Press.

2002 Digital Himalaya: An Ethnographic Archive in the Digital Age. In Interarchive: Archival Practices and Sites. Beatrice von Bismarck et al, eds. Köln: Verlag der Buchhandlung Walter König. 359-361.

Strang, Veronica

Publications

2001 Country Bla We: Kunjen Country on the Cape York Peninsula. North Queensland: Kowanyama Community Council.

2002 Life Down Under: Water and Identity in an Aboriginal Cultural Landscape, Goldsmiths College Anthropology Research Papers. No. 7. London: Goldsmiths College.

2003 An Appropriate Question? The Propriety of Anthropological Analysis in the Australian Political Arena. In The Ethics of Anthropology: debates and dilemmas, P. Caplan, ed. New York: Routledge. pp 172-194.

2003 Moon Shadows: Aboriginal and European Heroes in an Australian Landscape. In Landscape, Memory and History. P. Stewart and A. Strathern, eds. London: Pluto Press. pp 108-135.

2003 Hunter Gatherers and the Politics of Representation: An Introduction. CD-rom. Conference Proceedings. Edinburgh: 9th International Conference on Hunting and Gathering Societies.

2004 Raising the Dead: Reflecting on Native Title Process. In Crossing Boundaries: cultural, legal, historical and practice issues in Native Title, (ed) S. Toussaint, Melbourne: Melbourne University Press. pp 9-23.

2004 Close Encounters of the Third World Kind: Indigenous Knowledge and Relations to Land. In Development and Local Knowledge: New Approaches to Issues in Natural Resources Management, Conservation and Agriculture. ASA 2000, Volume 2. Studies in Environmental Anthropology Series. A. Bicker. J. Pottier and P. Sillitoe, eds. London: Routledge. pp 93-117.

2004 [2001] Poisoning the Rainbow: Cosmology and Pollution in Cape York. In Mining and Indigenous Lifeworlds in Australia and Papua New Guinea. A. Rumsey and J. Weiner, eds. Wantage: Sean Kingston Publishing. pp 208-225.

- 2005 Taking the Waters: Cosmology, Gender and Material Culture in the Appropriation of Water Resources. In Water, Gender and Development. A. Coles and T. Wallace, eds. Oxford, New York: Berg. pp 21-38.
- 2005 Meaningful Differences: Dis-integrated Management in the Mitchell River Catchment. In Sustainable Communities, Sustainable Environments. M. Minnegal, ed. Melbourne: SAGES. pp 60-69.
- 2005 Water Works: Agency and Creativity in the Mitchell River Catchment. In special edition of The Australian Journal of Anthropology, Australian Anthropologies of the Environment. J. Mulcock, C. Pocock and Y. Toussaint, eds. Special Issue 17, Vol 16:3. pp 366-381.
- 2005 Knowing Me, Knowing You: Aboriginal and Euro-Australian Concepts of Nature as Self and Other. In Worldviews 9.1. pp 25-56.
- 2006 Aqua Culture: The Flow of Cultural Meanings in Water. In Water: Histories, Cultures, Ecologies. M. Leybourne and A. Gaynor, eds. Nedlands: University of Western Australia Press. pp 68-80.

Papers Presented

- 2000 Reflecting on Engagement: The Side Effects of Participation in the Native Title Process. For Crossing Boundaries: Anthropology, Linguistics, History and Law in Native Title Conference, Perth, Australia, September 2000.
- 2001 An Appropriate Question? The Propriety of Anthropological Analysis in the Australian Political Arena. Goldsmiths University College, London, January 2001.
- 2001 Raising the Dead: Reflecting on Engagement in the Native Title Process. For joint conference of the Centre for Canadian Studies in Wales and the Centre for Australian Studies in Wales, Gregynog, February 2001.
- 2001 Taking the Waters: Cosmology, Gender and Material Culture and the Appropriation of Water Resources. For seminar series, Queen Elizabeth House, Centre for Cross-Cultural Research on Women, Oxford University, November 2001.
- 2001 Grave Voices: Aboriginal Health and the Effects of Engagement in Land Rights Conflicts in Australia. Social Medicine Seminars, Bristol University, November 2001.
- 2002 Hunter Gatherers and the Politics of Representation: An Introduction. 9th International Conference on Hunting and Gathering Societies, Edinburgh, September 2002.
- 2003 Knowing Me, Knowing You: Aboriginal and Euro-Australian Concepts of Nature as Self and Other, ICAES Conference, Florence, July 2003.

- 2003 Flowing Upriver? A Watershed in Aboriginal Regional Engagement, Conference Paper, AAS Annual Conference, Sydney University, October 2003.
- 2003 Water Power: Gender, Material Culture and the Acculturation of Water Resources, Workshop Fluid Bonds ANU, October 2003.
- 2003 Holding Water: An Anthropological Approach to Water Resource Conflicts, Inaugural Professorial Lecture, Auckland University of Technology, November 2003.
- 2004 Meaningful Differences: Cultural Meanings and Water Management in the Mitchell River Catchment, Symposium, University of Melbourne, September 2004.
- 2004 A Matter of Life and Death: Mapping Hydrological Journeys Through Cultural Time and Space. Conference, Australian Anthropological Society, Melbourne, September 2004.
- 2004 Dis-integrated Management in the Mitchell River Catchment, at Interdisciplinary Workshop, University of Queensland, October 2004.
- 2004 Hegemonic Paradigms: Representing the Environment in Far North Queensland. Association of Social Anthropologists of Aotearoa/New Zealand, Annual Conference, Auckland, December 2004.

BOARD OF SPONSORS

In order to establish the bona fides of the Fund, it was decided to enlist a group of eminent anthropologists to serve as sponsors of the Fund. The main function of the Board of Sponsors is to give intellectual support to the goals of the Fund in order to demonstrate the importance of this work. Also, if members of the Board know of individuals or foundations that might be interested in giving support to this work, we would appreciate hearing from them. We are constantly interested in enlarging this Board of Sponsors and would welcome hearing from anyone who would be interested in lending their support. We would like to express our deep appreciation and thanks to all the sponsors who have given their support to this project.

David F. Aberle* (University of British Columbia)
 K. Alexander Adelaar (University of Melbourne)
 Nathan Altshuler (College of William and Mary)
 George N. Appell, Founding Sponsor (Brandeis University)
 Diane Austin-Broos (University of Sydney)
 Joan Bamberger (Wellesley College)
 Jonathan C. M. Benthall (Royal Anthropological Institute)
 Brent Berlin (University of Georgia)
 Megan Biesele (Rice University)
 Robert Blust (University of Hawaii)
 John H. Bodley (Washington State University)
 Erika Bourguignon (Ohio State University)
 Donald E. Brown (University of California, Santa Barbara)
 Thomas Buckley (University of Massachusetts, Boston)
 Ann Pat Caplan (Goldsmiths College)
 Janet F. Carsten (University of Edinburgh)
 Michael M. Cernea (The World Bank)
 Norman A. Chance (University of Connecticut)
 Benjamin Colby (University of California, Irvine)
 Harold C. Conklin (Yale University)
 William Davenport* (University of Pennsylvania)

John Davis (All Souls College)
Robert K. Dentan (State University of New York, Buffalo)
Amity A. Doolittle (Yale University)
Michael R. Dove (Yale University)
Richard Allen Drake (Borneo Research Council)
Brian Durrans (The British Museum)
Timothy Earle (Northwestern University)
James F. Eder, Jr. (Arizona State University)
R. F. Ellen (University of Kent at Canterbury)
Sir Raymond Firth* (London School of Economics & Political Science)
James J. Fox (Australian National University)
Charles Frantz (State University of New York, Buffalo)
Thomas M. Fraser, Jr.* (New Hampshire)
J. Derek Freeman* (Australian National University)
Robert Gardner (Harvard University)
Rosemary Gianno (Keene State College)
Peter R. Goethals* (Hawaii)
Walter R. Goldschmidt (University of California, Los Angeles)
Anthony Good (University of Edinburgh)
Felicita D. Goodman (Denison University)
J. R. Goody (University of Cambridge)
Robert J. Gordon (University of Vermont)
P. Bion Griffin (University of Hawaii, Honolulu)
Stephen F. Gudeman (University of Minnesota)
Marie-Françoise Guedon (University of Ottawa)
(Continued on inside back cover)

BOARD OF SPONSORS (continued)

Alfred Harris* (University of Rochester)
Olivia Harris* (Goldsmiths College)
Eric Hirsch (Brunel University)
Robert K. Hitchcock (University of Nebraska)
Anna Hohenwart-Gerlachstein (IUAES-Commission on Urgent Anthropological Research)
W. W. Howells* (Harvard University)
Dell Hymes (University of Virginia)
Nitish Jha (Consultative Group on International Agricultural Research)
Cornelia Ann Kammerer (Brandeis College)
William Kelly (Yale University)
Victor T. King (University of Hull)
A. Thomas Kirsch* (Cornell University)
Stuart Kirsch (University of Michigan, Ann Arbor)
Claude Lévi-Strauss* (Collège de France)
E. Douglas Lewis (University of Melbourne)
Celia Lowe (University of Washington)
Alan MacFarlane (University of Cambridge)
T. N. Madan (University of Delhi)
Luisa Maffi (Terralingua)
Robert A. Manners* (Brandeis University)
Charity A. McNabb (Firebird Foundation for Anthropological Research)
Torben Monberg (Fredensborg, Denmark)
Brian Morris (Goldsmiths College)
C. Patrick Morris* (University of Washington)
Shuichi Nagata (University of Toronto)
Rodney Needham* (All Souls College, Oxford)
Ida Nicolaisen (University of Copenhagen)
Stephen Nugent (Goldsmiths College)
Eugene Ogan (University of Hawaii)
Kazunori Oshima (Doshisha University)
Robert Paine (Memorial University of Newfoundland)
Richard J. Parmentier (Brandeis University)
Stephen L. Pastner (University of Michigan, Ann Arbor)
James L. Peacock (University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill)

Anton Ploeg (Nijmegen University)
Laura Rival (Oxford University)
Paul B. Roscoe (University of Maine, Orono)
Benson Saler (Brandeis University)
Clifford Sather (University of Helsinki)
Bernard J. L. Sellato (University of Provence)
Parker Shipton (Boston University)
Daniela F. Sieff (Real World Pictures)
Masri Singarimbun* (Gadjah Mada University)
Melford E. Spiro (University of California, San Diego)
Leslie E. Sponsel (University of Hawaii, Honolulu)
Vinson H. Sutlive, Jr. (College of William and Mary)
R. L. Tapper (School of Oriental and African Studies)
Mark Turin (Cambridge University)
Motomitsu Uchibori (Hitotsubashi University)
Evon Z. Vogt* (Harvard University)
Reed Wadley* (University of Missouri)
Laura P. Appell Warren (Milton Academy)
Peter Wogan (Willamette University)
* Deceased